Halloween Terror: History of Halloween

BY: LESLIE LOPEZ

Halloween goes back 2000 years ago to the Celtic celebration of the dead. The Celtic festival was held on November 1, the first day of the Celtic New Year, honoring the Samhain, the Lord of the Dead. Celtic ritual believed that the souls of the dead returned on the evening before November 1. The celebration included burning sacrifices and wearing costumes. Halloween spread throughout Europe in the seventh century. It began with "All Hallows Eve", the "Night of the Dead". It is immediately followed by "All Souls Day," a Christian holy day. Carving pumpkins and putting candles inside was believed to ward off evil spirits, especially spirits who roamed the streets and countryside.

Poetry by Jennifer

Dripping blood
Twisted guts
I see all through the dust
Knife goes in
Knife goes out
You'll be dead without a doubt
Come try if you dare
Read more
If not beware
Scratching sound

Bubbling wits
I'll come to get you
So don't hiss
Night sky be my guide
Show me who is in disguise
Bubbling pot of dark magic Boil! Boil!
And now you've read my spell
On Halloween night you'll all be killed.
